

'52 Forecasts Good and Bad For Business

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Top executives are telling stockholders and employees these days what's ahead in 1952. There's a flurry of forecasting today — some rosy, and some cautious. Annual reports are usually the medium.

Business continues to boom for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. President Cleo F. Craig tells stockholders that the company has plenty of would-be customers waiting.

"Renewed upswing in demand, pressing requirements of defense, and strict governmental allocation of materials have limited our ability to do everything we want to do," Craig says. If material shortages can be licked, 1952 should be another boom year for the phone company. But taxes are whittling down net profits.

Charles A. Thomas, president of Monsanto Chemical Co., has a word of caution for his stockholders. "In December and the early part of January, 1952," he says in his report, "we have noted some softening of chemical markets in general." But Thomas thinks "it is too early to predict prospects for the coming year."

A "good year," however is foreseen by Arthur O. Dietz, president of C. I. T. Financial Corp. He thinks people will want to borrow money for many things. He predicts five million cars and trucks will be produced this year, to be sold at increased prices, and this will keep the dollar demand for car financing high. He expects "1952 will be a satisfactory year in our automotive financing operations."

Another company tied in with the automobile is also optimistic. President W. O'Neil tells General Tire & Rubber Co. stockholders that "The replacement tire field is expected to exceed all previous sales records" in 1952.

An industry with little to fear in 1952 is machine tool. Shipments continue to increase, the National Machine Tool Builders Association reports. And in January unfilled orders were 18 times the current production rate of the industry. But the ratio is dropping. It hit its high last September at 23 times production rate.

The rubber industry, just given the green light by the government to resume its own buying and selling of natural rubber, is optimistic. January saw the biggest month-to-month gain rubber consumption in almost two years. The Rubber Manufacturers Association, Inc., reports. Return to private purchase and sale of raw rubber won't change things in the industry much, executives say. There's plenty of rubber now.

Services' 'Propaganda' Machine Turned On Against Exposures

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Hebert (D-La.) charges that a "gigantic and colossal propaganda machine" of the armed forces has turned on "all the faucets" in an attempt to explain away his committee's "expose of waste in the military."

He called on the Defense Department yesterday to turn over to the House Armed Services Committee "the name and salary paid each civilian press agent, ghost writer and public relations expert and for whom and under whose direction the individual works."

Robber Turns Clerk When Customer Shops

NEW YORK (AP)—A strange clerk greeted a woman customer last night when she entered a drug store to buy cigarettes.

Unsure of the price, he inquired of the owner, who was tied up at the moment in a back room. The clerk served her and she left.

Then he pocketed the money and left with an armed companion, adding the price of a pack of cigarettes to their $500 robbery.

B-50 Bomber Crash Kills 5, Hurts 12 Near Omaha Base

OMAHA (AP)—A four-engine B-50 bomber crashed and burst into flames today as it attempted to land at Offutt Air Force Base near here. Officials listed five dead and 12 hospitalized.

A public relations spokesman said investigators are probing the wreckage to determine whether any other persons were aboard.

Strategic Air Command officials said the plane, on a classified flight, was en route from a Sacramento air base. They reported it landed short of the runway about 2:30 a.m., lost one wing, crashed and then burned.

The B-50 carried a normal crew of 11.

Names of dead and injured were withheld.

Sedalia Police Warn Of 'White' Air Raid

A nation-wide "White" air raid warning was sounded Monday night. The practice warning is designated "White."

The Sedalia police received the warning from Troop "A" Lee's Summit radio station at 9:02 p.m. The police in turn notified Windsor and Warsaw, and local authorities as quickly as possible.

From the time the warning was received, all points had been contacted within seven minutes. Major Harry O. Berry, civilian defense director in Sedalia, was notified at 9:03; Pettis County Sheriff John F. Taylor at 9:04; City Marshall "Doc" Lewis, Windsor, at 9:06; and Chief of Police Hankin, Warsaw at 9:09.

Windsor and Warsaw officials were the hardest officials to locate, but their notification was within seven minutes.

Aiken Doubts Morris Can Make Clean-up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said today that Corruption Investigator Newbold Morris faces "an uphill fight all the way because two-thirds of the corruption in government is 'legal' corruption—improper but within the law."

Aiken added he is "mighty doubtful" the New York Republican will be able to "clean up the government."

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), who won fame as a "one-man grand jury" in the days when he was exposing civic corruption in Detroit, said in a separate interview he thought Morris was "taking a step in the right direction" in planning to ask officials throughout the federal service for full information about their private income sources.

"But I think he should go further and obtain their official income tax returns," Ferguson said. Morris was appointed by President Truman as a special assistant to Atty. Gen. McGrath to track down any misconduct in government.

Morris said yesterday his first step would be collection of income-source data from upper-level officials in the executive branches of the government—that is, the various departments, agencies and commissions.

He is not authorized to go into the legislative and judicial branches. He said in response to a question it may be assumed some questionnaires will go to employees in the armed services.

"I think it can be said now," he added, "that the survey will reach everyone handling government contract work."

Aiken said Morris' questionnaire on incomes "might turn up a few individuals guilty of wrongdoing, but I don't think it will accomplish any real good." The Vermont lawmaker added:

"Essentially what Morris has to contend with is the philosophy of the victor belongs the spoils. It's a basic condition which the kind of investigation he is undertaking never can correct."

Saturday Night Once Special, Now It's Just Another Evening

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever happened to Saturday night?

Saturday used to have a special character of its own all over America. Today it is just getting to be another day in the week.

A generation or so ago almost every town in the country was, as the saying went, "A Saturday night town."

Saturday was the working man's one day of glamour, a time when he could kick up his heels and let go. He was really born to be a king. It was the week's regular Mardi Gras carnival, looked forward to by everybody.

Everyone who lived in the country came in for a night on the town. The farmer unhitched his plow and hitched up his wagon. While his wife toured the store, buying the best gingham and ribbons with other farmers in the country square and traded crop goods for house square and other goods. The farmer and his wife were suiting whom and cussed out the local banker and criticized the weather. Then the family took in a dance.

Rosenbergs Take Death Sentences To Supreme Court

NEW YORK (AP)—Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, husband and wife sentenced to die for giving Russia atomic secrets, looked to the U. S. Supreme Court today to save them from the electric chair.

The Rosenbergs are the first Americans ever doomed for espionage outside a military court-martial. A U. S. Court of Appeals yesterday upheld unanimously their convictions and sentences.

Defense Attorney Emanuel H. Bloch said he "definitely" would take the case to the Supreme Court.

If the Supreme Court rules against the Rosenbergs, only a commutation of their sentence by the President could keep them from dying in the electric chair at Sing Sing N. Y. Prison.

Rosenberg, an electrical engineer who will be 34 in May, and his 35-year-old wife were convicted of ferreting out wartime American secrets for the same Russian-bossed spy ring that included imprisoned British scientist Klaus Fuchs.

Another defendant at the Rosenberg trial a year ago was Morton Sobell, 35, who drew 30 years for his part in the plot.

The Appeals Court yesterday also upheld the conviction of Sobell, who was charged generally with being a member of the conspiracy. He escaped the death penalty because he was not linked, as the Rosenbergs were, to the actual theft of the atomic data.

or a show and clip-clopped contentedly home late at night, the kids asleep in the back of the wagon, the grownups wondering if the hired hand would show up by milking time and saying to each other, "It must be awful to live in town all week. I just couldn't stand it."

In the cities Saturday was payday. The jubilee signal was the factory closing whistle that blew at noon or one o'clock. The workman paused on the way home to wet his own whistle and get a haircut. His children could hear the family jingle in his pockets.

The family bathtub took a real workout then, washing away the week's sweat and care, and somebody was always banging on the door and saying, "Hurry up in there, won't you? I'm next." Mama scrubbed the youngest kids in a bathtub in the kitchen to save time.

After that there was the week's grocery buying and the candy buying, and dinner out, and a movie. Sister disappeared with her best beau, and big brother sneaked off with his pals and mama fretted, "I'd just like to know what those boys are really up to now."

The next morning everybody woke up happy, tired and so broke you looked the other way when you dropped your contribution into the plate they passed at church. It made such a small tinkle you felt guilty.

Mama then cooked a mammoth Sunday dinner. After that was eaten, everybody was so worn out they had to take a nap, and you could hear snoring all over the house. The next day was Monday, the beginning of the empty-pocket part of the week, but the excitement of looking forward to another Saturday night would carry you through.

That was the way America celebrated its weekends for a couple of centuries. In hundreds of towns Saturday night is still the night people choose to celebrate, get drunk, get in a fight, or propose to their best girl.

But the five-day week, the radio, and the automobile are changing the pattern. There are a lot of "Friday night towns" now. And many people who live in the country now can't go to town on Saturday; they have to stay home and entertain visitors from the city, who flee the concrete canyons at every chance.

More and more folks also just hole up at home on weekends, saying, "I wouldn't go uptown and fight those crowds for anything."

Whatever happened to Saturday night? Some people just got so they

Joplin Girl Recent Bride Of Hulen Luetjen

The marriage of Miss Joan DeGraffenreid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. DeGraffenreid, Joplin, Mo., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gold-er A. Luetjen of Smithton, Mo., was solemnized at an impressive candlelight ceremony at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Feb. 10 in the Bethany Presbyterian church, Joplin. The Rev. Robert F. Stevenson read the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends.

The altar was decorated with woodwardia ferns and baskets of white gladioli and snapdragons with tall white tapers before a background of emerald leaves and a long row of cathedral candles. The aisle was decorated with woodwardia ferns. The bridesmaids were marked with candles tied with white satin bows. Mrs. Howard Brooks played a program of traditional wedding music including "Largo" (Handel), "Dream" (McAmis) and "Liebestraum" (Liszt). Karl Meyer sang "Only a Rose," "How Do I Love Thee?" "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were played for the processional and recessional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin with an overskirt of exquisite white lace extending into an aisle-length train. The fitted bodice was of lace with yoke of illusion tulle. The long sleeves tapered to a point at the hands. Tiny satin-covered buttons extended down the back of the bodice. She wore a fingertip length veil of bridal illusion that cascaded from a white satin Juliet hat edged with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis surrounded with satin leaves centered with three Cattleya orchids, with sweetheart shower of ribbon. Her only jewelry was a small cameo lavalier which had belonged to her sister and a watch, a gift of the groom.

Miss Martha Cole, maid of honor, wore a gown of lilac net over violet net and taffeta, fashioned with strapless bodice worn with a stole. Her full-gathered skirt was of two shades of contrasting net with cumberbund of taffeta forming a bustle centered with a tiny colonial nosegay. She wore a halo of braided lilac net.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jack Jewsbury and Mrs. Stanley Lea who wore identical gowns of violet net over lilac net. The attendants carried miniature bird cages filled with yellow jonquils and acacia with strands of ivy trailing from the bouquets. Linda Jane Bryson was junior bridesmaid and wore a lilac and violet net floor-length gown. She carried a heart-shaped satin pillow edged in lace bearing two rings. Little Jean Ann Bryson was flower girl. She wore a white satin floor-length frock with white net overskirt with bustle back centered with a small nose-gay. In her hair she wore a tiara of white chrysanthemums. She scattered flower petals from a basket of lilac net. The candles were lighted by Mrs. Joe Keys of Independence, Mo., who wore a gown similar to the bridesmaids with halo of yellow chrysanthemums. Robert Campbell was best man. Ushers were James Rigdon of Festus, Mo., Stanley Lea and James Bryson.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. DeGraffenreid chose a French blue crepe gown with lace applique and steel cut beads forming a yoke. She wore a matching blue hat and corsage of pink glame-llias. Mrs. Luetjen, mother of the groom, wore an aqua two-piece dress fashioned with a side drape. Her hat was of white metallic brocade. She wore a corsage of orchid glame-llias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table was covered with an imported linen cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake surrounded with a garland of white chrysanthemums and greenery. Tall white tapers burned in crystal candelabra. Those assisting were Mrs. Albert Grubb of Newton, Kas., aunt of the bride, Mrs. James Campbell, Mrs. Fred Pflug, Mrs. Floyd Wiggins, Miss Delores Lampkin, Miss Evadeen Talbot and Miss Mary Lee Grubb. Mrs. Claude Bigley was in charge of the guest book.

The bride and groom left for a wedding trip to New Orleans. For traveling the bride wore a gray wool suit with her straw hat and red accessories. She carried a white wool coat trimmed with black velvet. She wore an

Mrs. Luetjen is a graduate of Joplin high school and Joplin Junior college, where she was affiliated with Alpha Kappa Mu chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority. The bride was graduated from the McConnell air stewardess school in Minneapolis and for the last year has been employed as air stewardess for the Ozark Air Lines, with headquarters in St. Louis.

The groom is a graduate of Smithton high school and Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy in Rolla and was a member of the faculty there for one year following graduation. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Pi Sigma and Phi Kappa Phi fraternities. He is employed as an engineer by the McDonald Aircraft Corporation in St. Louis and has enrolled in the night classes of the graduate school of Washington University.

Mary Ann Kuhlman Directs and Sings In SMHS Operetta

Miss Mary Ann Kuhlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuhlman, 222 East Fourth, had an unusual experience recently when she directed and was an actress in an operetta presented by St. Mark's high school, St. Louis.

St. Mark's, one of the largest Catholic high schools in St. Louis, needed someone to direct and stage "The Gondoliers" and called Fontbonne college to ask for assistance. College officials recommended Mary Ann since she is majoring in dramatics and had recently staged "Brigadoon" for the college.

Mary Ann took over the operetta direction and all was going well until a few days before the presentation. Then the girl who was taking the part of Gianetta was stricken with appendicitis. There was no one else to take her place so officials of the school asked Mary Ann to assume the role. She did and the presentation went off smoothly before a large audience.

Relations With Italy To New Low

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet-Italian relations sank today to their lowest point since the end of the war with a Russian accusation that Italy has long deliberately violated her peace treaty.

The Soviet government rejected a Feb. 8 Italian note announcing Italy intends to be bound no longer by the treaty's terms. Russia was one of the signers of the 1947 treaty.

One of its main provisions sharply limited Italy's joining the "aggressive" North Atlantic Bloc and permitting other "aggressive" states to build bases there, thus transforming the country into a marshaling point for American aggression in Europe.

Russia charged Italy completely failed to fulfill her reparations obligations to Russia.

The note said Italy now was seeking to "legitimize" violations of the treaty by denouncing it. It was considered here that the Soviet Union would pursue through diplomatic channels a continued demand that Italy fulfill the treaty's terms and will continue to veto Italy's membership in the UN unless 13 other applicants are admitted at the same time.

At recent UN sessions, Russia offered to admit Italy in a package with eight other western candidates if the western members of the Security Council would let in the Soviet sponsored candidates: Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Outer Mongolia. The west, led by the U. S., refused. None of the 14 was admitted.

Griddle Broken Into Last Night: Thieves Get $31

The Griddle, 110 East Fifth, was burglarized sometime early Tuesday by thieves who obtained about $31 in money. A check of merchandise is being made to determine if anything else is missing.

Apparently the thieves were frightened away before they had an opportunity to break open a juke box. The box had been pulled to the middle of the large room to the rear and appeared as if it had been tampered with.

Entrance was gained through a door on the west side of the building. It was reached by climbing over a gate guarding the opening between the Griddle and the building to the west. A glass in the door was smashed so the thieves could reach inside and unlatch the door.

From the cash register $20 was taken. Eight dollars was found in a change box and $3 in pennies are known to have been stolen.

Truck Tires Taken

Two large truck tires and wheels on a truck belonging to H. Trimble were removed from the spare tire wheel rack while the truck was parked behind Goldin's Market, 206 West Main.

men in the 13 states will go to camp for 15 days of training, during the period June 8 to August 31. This attendance will be approximately the same as in 1951, despite departure of the 44th Infantry Division, one of two National Guard divisions in Illinois, which this month entered active Army service at Camp Cooke, Calif. That there will be no consequent drop in total camp enrollment is attributed by Guard officials to a greater stabilization of Guard strengths since 1950 and less attrition in membership; also increased re-enlistments during the past year and a steady growth in new enlistments.

The Peacock Path

THE STORY: Ames Warburton, one of the partners of Cravath & Company, stockbrokers, is found dead on rocks below the cliffs that border Peacock Path, and Jim Orin, private detective who is posing as a playboy guest of Marney Cravath at Cravath's estate, is convinced the death was not an accident. Orin had been invited to Windover as Cravath's guest after two attempts had been made on Marney's life. Searching for clues, Orin is knocked out by Cravath's niece, who was panicked by meeting him on the path in darkness.

BREAKFAST at Windover was a kind of continuous affair. I arrived for this repeat unconsciously late to find Dolly Dumont and Manila in the dining room. Dolly looked nearly as bad as I felt, but she made a pass at the social amenities.

"You're Sally's boy friend from Bermuda," she said, striving for distinctness. Her green eyes fixed me a trifle uncertainly. "Not bad; not good either. I've seen better."

"Oh," I said. "They make 'em better."

Manila brought me pale-yellow eggs scrambled to a lovely consistency, encompassed by little sausages and crowned with a sprig of parsley. He followed up with coffee and toast. I had already deigned to pour my own orange juice.

Dolly Dumont gazed upon this gastronomic treat and turned away as if revolted. "What the young can put in their stomachs at the crack of dawn. What'd you say your name was, boy?"

"Jim Orin, Mrs. Dumont," I reminded her. And it occurred to me that either Mrs. Dumont's indiscretions of the night before were still wielding authority or else that she'd built herself up with a jumbo-size eye-opener. But no matter which, I began wolfing eggs.

"Okay, Jim. But don't bolt your food. I can't stand it on a morning like this."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Truman's Inclination To Run Tied to Eisenhower's Strength

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 — Real fact about President Truman's inner debate with himself over the question of "to-run-or-not-to-run" is that it's intimately tied up to General Eisenhower. It is like a seesaw. The more Eisenhower's political strength goes down, the more Truman's inclination to run goes up.

Approximately one month ago the President had definitely decided he would not permit himself to be drafted. In his own mind this was categorical, and to one or two of his most intimate friends, he so expressed himself. At that time, however, he firmly expected Eisenhower would be the Republican nominee, and Truman had no reason to believe he would not only be elected but personally made a pledge to help him become president but also because he regarded like as unbeatable.

Since then, however, the political scouts, both Republican and Democratic, report that Eisenhower's organization is limping and that the general, though having tremendous popular appeal, is in the hands of an inept group who can't translate popular appeal into delegates.

As a result, the President has been toying with the idea of running again — first, because he is itching to take on Bob Taft whom he thinks he can lick; second, because the palace guard is cleverly coking him up as the indispensable man.

Sage Chief Justice

On the other hand, no less a personage than Chief Justice Fred Vinson, one of the closest friends the President has and in his day a shrewd political observer, has been spending some time at the White House strongly advising Mr. Truman not to run.

The chief justice took this move after a talk with Speaker Sam Rayburn. Both men have a great affection for the President, and both are in a far better position to gauge the political winds than the palace guard.

The chief justice's argument has been an appealing one — namely, that Truman's place in history on the major issues is now assured. No one can ever detract from his firm stand in building up the North Atlantic pact, putting across the Marshall plan, opposing a Communist aggressor in Korea, blocking Communism in Greece and Turkey, and championing such domestic issues as civil liberties, public housing, public health and a better break for the common man.

But if the President ran and were defeated, the chief justice has argued, he would jeopardize all that he has won — especially his foreign policy. Furthermore, even if he ran and won, he would face a split in his own party which might endanger his foreign policy.

Palace Guard Protects Jobs

On the other hand, themen immediately around the President, most of whom are rabidly intent on keeping their jobs, know that their only job insurance is to have Truman run again.

As a result, they constantly bring in those callers who they know will urge their chief to run, tell him he is the only man who can save the nation. They know what the President's vanities are, his prejudices and his passions. And though he started out by being quite friendly to Senator Kefauver, the palace guard has now fanned his jealousy to a point where he would almost like to put if only to put the Tennessee senator in his place.

To illustrate, Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, interviewed by the press, was asked what he thought of Kefauver. Stevenson and Kefauver have always been friendly, so the governor made the natural observation that Kefauver was a fine man and would make a good candidate.

Immediately a member of the palace guard clipped the Stevenson quote, rushed it into Truman, exclaiming that the governor of Illinois had betrayed the President. The palace guard, of course, wants neither Kefauver nor Stevenson to run. They only want the man who can guarantee continuation of their jobs — Harry S. Truman.

New Type Diplomacy

Sometimes it takes the youth of the nation to get away from the hackneyed ideas of the professional writers and the professional diplomats. At any rate, school children all over the nation are now responding to the idea of people - to - people diplomacy by writing messages to Moscow to be broadcast over the Voice of America.

There is the fresh, simple message of a Kansas farm boy, Gene Manahan, age 14 years, of the Ridge school, Peabody, Kas., to youngsters behind the Iron Curtain:

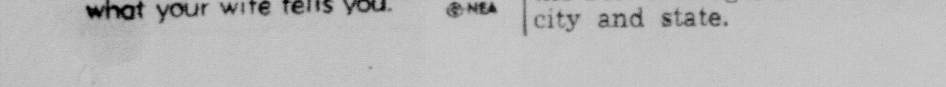

"I am a farm boy and writing you about my experiences in a boys' and girls' farm organization called a 4-H club. This is a very democratic organization. We elect our own officers and choose our own projects. We learn practices in 4-H clubs which will be very useful to us when we grow up and become voting citizens in our own country."

"In a contest sponsored for 4-H club members by a large free enterprise company, I won a young female pig, who will have little pigs in the spring. This shows how even a boy like I may get ahead in this country. I made enough money off of a pig I raised last summer to buy myself a radio and still have some money left over."

"I wish that all children in Iron Curtain countries would have this kind of freedom as I do."

"Gene Manahan."

The Voice of America, by an arrangement worked out with this columnist, will broadcast the best messages from the youth of America to the youth behind the Iron Curtain. Messages should be about 150 words long. Local school principals are working out plans with state school officials to pick the best messages from each town, city and state.

to watch him play three holes without his being aware of my presence.

I said, then, "I hope I'm not disturbing you, Mr. Cravath."

He glanced up quickly. "Oh, Orin! No, certainly not. I was just amusing myself. Did you finally get some sleep?"

"Plenty," I lied.

He stroked his chin. "Well, that's more than I can say. I hate to admit it, but this thing's got me down. I can't get over young Ames."

"In line with that," I said. "I'd like to have a little talk. If I can manage it without being too conspicuous."

"Should think we could. I don't know where the others are. Except that I've got Sladen busy in the house. Suppose we walk a bit?"

THE words themselves might have been callous. But Dolly Dumont's tone wasn't exactly. There was a trace of softness, even of pity, in it.

"Yes," I said cautiously. "Didn't like to mention it before, because I didn't know if you knew about it. But there has been a bad accident."

"Accident?" said Dolly. "Who am I to argue? All I know is that that poor kid, Ames, had no business here under the — the circumstances. If he'd played ball in his own league, as they say, this mightn't have happened."

I hadn't an earthly of what she was driving at. But I wanted her to talk.

"I don't get it," I said encouragingly. "What circumstances?"

She ignored that completely. "Listen, Jim! You're a nice kid but, after all, just a kid. So you'd better take some advice, even if it does come from a raddled old hag. Pack up and get out of here! This was a bad business for Ames Warburton. Could be for you too."

She went out of the room, none too steadily.

I swore into coffee dregs. A clever guy would have kept her there and learned something. I'd learned nothing in particular. Except, possibly, that Dolly Dumont was neither as drunk nor as dumb as she advertised herself to be.

I found Marston Cravath on his putting green, a miniature replica of an actual golf course, some holes short, others long, and little red flags with white numbers marking the holes. Such was Cravath's absorption that I was able

What Others Say

W. L. Jackson, 1207 West Fifth — Who has had much experience with saddle horses, and whose slogan is, "Ride a horse and forget the doctor," sends in this clipping:

The following is a quotation from Doctor A. J. Oshner and published under the heading of "Horses and Riders."

"There is no other form of exercises that so fully affects every nerve and every organ of the body in a healthful way as does horseback riding. Moreover, the rider's attention is centered upon his horse so that he can not and will not let his business and professional troubles interfere with the pleasure of the ride. Nothing will bring out a healthy glow more quickly or enjoyably than this exercise. Nothing will more promptly put one's organs of digestion and those of elimination into the way of performing their physiological work properly. On horseback, one is forced to breathe deeply, and this, in the open air, in itself means an enormous advantage to a man who spends his working hours in intensive concentrated mental activity. One can actually feel that his joints and muscles and blood vessels remain pliable and that his heart does not object to walking rapidly or running upstairs."

Sorosis History Recalled Monday In Living Pictures

Sorosis members enjoyed a very fine and carefully arranged program on Monday, Feb. 25, at the Heard Memorial club house. Mrs. Thomas Yount, general program chairman, and Mrs. O. W. Wiley staged a colorful and unique occasion that brought out in living pictures the wonderful literary club of this city from its founding to the present day.

A small group of women desiring a cultural club met in Jan. 1889 and with this nucleus this club has grown and prospered to the present day.

This charming program was enacted by the new members taken into the club this year. Mrs. Herbert Studer, chairman of the current topics department, introduced the living pictures in a gracious manner. Mrs. William Rich read the story as it came on the scene and this story covered important club events through the years as well as world events of vital interest to everyone.

"Sorosis was born" was the title of the first picture. As the curtain was drawn, the audience saw Mrs. George Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Sherman both in black gowns of a long past date. For each picture Mrs. Studer gave the facts of each period and introduced the clever pictures posed by the new members.

The next picture was posed by Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Wesner, representing "The Gay Nineties" and "Merry Widow" periods. Mrs. Jones wore a black gown and Mrs. Wesner was in pale blue chiffon, trimmed in lace. "The Merry Widow" was the picture by Mrs. Keith Yount in a champagne satin dress, embroidered in beads and pearls. This was the 1889 to 1900 date in pictures.

The club was organized in 1889 with Mrs. Van Reper as the first president and Mrs. Keith Yount was lovely in this picture. The fourth picture dates extending from 1900 to 1910 and was "A New Century." It featured Mrs. John Pelum, Mrs. Robert Sherman and Mrs. Henry Menefee. Mrs. Menefee wore a black satin skirt and a sheer white blouse. Mrs. Sherman wore a light blue veil and lace gown.

The next scene represented the "Gibson Girl" and army nurses with dates from 1910 to 1920. Materials were arranged by Mrs. Marvin Elsea, Mrs. E. W. Bartley and Mrs. William Frost in a white cotton outfit and a nurse's uniform. Mrs. Bartley was in a white shirt waist outfit and a large black hat.

The next picture was entitled "The Golden Age" and "The Flapper Period" from 1920 to 1930, arranged by Mrs. P. A. Silvers, Mrs. George Lockett and Mrs. Carl Siegel. Mrs. Silvers wore a black beaded dress and looked quite handsome in it with a white feather bow around her throat. Mrs. Siegel made a great hit as the "flapper girl" in a pink chiffon dress, very, very short, and with points extending to various lengths. The soft pink of the gown became her natural beauty.

The next picture represented the period of 1930-1940 and was entitled, "The New Club House," the gift of Mrs. John T. Heard, a beloved member of the club in its early life. This gift has brought much joy to the members. The golden anniversary of the club was also celebrated. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Elsea represented the new club era and wore becoming frocks. Mrs. Bartley wore a black satin gown and a large black hat. Mrs. Menefee looked quite regal in white lace with which she wore long gloves, a large strand of pearls and a picture hat.

The 1940-1950 era was the time that came the "Pearl Harbor shock" and the universal call to colors. Mrs. Hamilton was first pictured in uniform and Mrs. Keith Yount wore work slacks. An impressive scene with Mrs. Siegel, Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. Silvers, Mrs. Frost in staff Red Cross uniforms and a large Red Cross flag decorating the table at which they sat ready to give service wherever needed.

The closing scene was dedicated to those ladies of the Sorosis who gave much time and thought to the decoration of the club house. This picture was formed by Mrs. Wesner surrounded by samples and equipment needed for the re-decoration.

Mrs. Dimmitt Hoffman, president, presided over the afternoon business session. She introduced Mrs. Yount, program chairman, who announced the important ruling, made official that all members must participate in a program during the year.

Beauty Notes

Hair Fashions

Regardless of hair length or design, the smart hair for 1952 has a small, close-fitting silhouette. The "must" contour means expert tapering and a soft, natural looking permanent for the much needed body.

Pretty lines, practical lines are essential in short hair-dos designed for the career girl or young housewife. Sparkling hair ornaments or rhinestones, barrettes, etc., add gaiety and femininity for that extra something in fashion accessories.

Conscience Forces Man to Admit Bank Shortage of $36,000

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. — Samuel E. Swiger, bank executive who told the FBI his conscience prodded him into surrendering, was held today in connection with a $36,000 banking shortage.

The Cairo, W. Va., executive surrendered last night in Clarksburg, W. Va. Arraigned here before U.S. Commissioner Lawrence M. Ronning, Swiger waived preliminary hearing and was held for federal grand jury action in $50,000 bail.

The FBI had been hunting for him since Feb. 16. He reportedly disappeared three days earlier while serving as vice president and cashier of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank. The warrant charged him with violating the Federal Reserve Act.

In Pittsburgh, FBI Agent Fred Hallford said Swiger admitted embezzling at least $50,000 in bank funds during the past seven years. Hallford said Swiger disappeared when a routine examination of the books showed a $36,000 shortage.

The FBI agent said Swiger told him he surrendered because his conscience began bothering him. The FBI said he handed over $5,000 that remained of the money.

78 Percent '51 Movies Are Called Good for Families

Out of 350 motion pictures reviewed last year by 13 national preview groups, which appraise and rate films for more than 40 million Americans, a total of 275, or 78 per cent, was classified for family audiences including children 12 years of age. This was disclosed by Mrs. Thomas Fee, editorial chairman of the American Association of University Women, one of the speakers at a luncheon recently when Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Pictures Association of America, was presented an award by the national preview committee.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Tues., Feb. 26, 1952 7

The film industry was accorded a triple citation — for its record number of "outstanding" films in 1951, for its increasing emphasis on films for the general family audience, and for its "constructive presentation of those principles and ideals which have made this a great democratic nation."

In accepting the award, Johnston said: "It is warmly encouraging to have you speak of the Americanism of our pictures and the abundance of wholesome entertainment that Hollywood has produced. These are aims which we always seek to attain."

If the atmosphere did not rotate with the earth there would be a constant westerly wind of 795 miles an hour at 40 degrees latitude.

Swiss Upset Olympics, Let Norway Win

OSLO (P)—A shift in skiing dominance from Sweden and Switzerland to Norway and Finland upset the balance of power in the 1952 Winter Olympic Games and gave the host Norwegians a runaway victory.

When the sixth- and largest-winter carnival under Olympic auspices closed last night, Norway had scored 125½ points in the unofficial but traditional, scoring table that allows 10 points for a first-place gold medal, five points for second and then 4-3-2 for other placings in the first six.

The United States' best balanced team in the history of the winter games, was a surprisingly strong second with 89½ points.

Four years ago at St. Moritz, less than 14 points separated top-of-the-table Sweden and the fourth place Americans. Sweden scored 79 points and was trailed by Switzerland and 71, Norway with 69½ and the United States with 65½.

This time—leaving out hockey, which didn't count in the 1948 totals—Sweden managed only 25½ points and the Swiss 21.

The change from the deep, heavy snows of the Alps to the thin, covered icy slopes of the Norwegian mountains cost the Swedes and Swiss dearly.

And Norwegian determination to win their own games was not to be denied.

Finland took over third place here with 72 points after running sixth at St. Moritz with 40.

The United States improved in every department except bobsled, where Americans scored 9½ points last time and produced their first winter Olympic double winner—Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence, 39-year-old daredevil from Rutland, Vt.

Ken Henry of Chicago won the 500-meter speed skating, the first victory the U. S. has scored under Olympic rules, which call for a race against time instead of the American massed start.

Dick Button of Englewood, N. J., was the only champion to repeat his 1948 victory. He easily outclassed the field in men's figure skating.

The final unofficial point standings for the 22 events: Norway, 125½; United States, 89½; Finland, 72; Austria, 60; Germany, 50½; Sweden, 29½; Italy, 25; Holland, 24; Switzerland, 21; Canada, 18½; Great Britain, 13; France, 10; Hungary, 4; Czechoslovakia, 3; Belgium, 1; Poland, 1; Japan, ½.

8 THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Tues., Feb. 26, 1952

Kentucky Clings to Top Spot With Illini Breath on Necks

NEW YORK (P)—The National champion Kentucky Wildcats kept a firm hold on first place in the Associated Press weekly basketball standings today, but if they looked over their shoulder they'd recognize a new pursuer.

Illinois, which just about clinched the Big Ten title by upending Iowa, 78-62, Saturday, leaped from fifth to the runner-up spot in the latest ratings by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

Kansas State and Duquesne, who had enjoyed the honor of breathing down the Wildcats' necks, actually lost little prestige, however, from their upset defeats over the weekend.

The Kansas Staters, surprised by Colorado, 67-57, fell only a notch, from second to third and at the same time shoved Duquesne, its 18-game winning streak broken by Villanova, from third to fourth.

Kentucky picked up 51 of the 133 first-place votes cast and scored a total of 953 points on the basis of 10 for a first place vote, nine for second and on down the line.

Actually, there was a remarkable mild shakeup in the top 10 considering the wave of upsets that swept through college basketball ranks the last few days.

St. Louis, with a 20-5 record and an eye on both the NCAA and National Invitation championships, moved from ninth to fifth place and Iowa dropped from fourth to seventh.

West Virginia, winner of 21 of its 23 games, wrenched the No. 10 spot from St. Bonaventure, a 65-63 victim of Canisius.

Otherwise, the changes weren't anything to get excited about. Washington, for example, held the sixth position despite a 55-45 loss to Wyoming.

Kansas and St. John's each fell a rung for no apparent reason, occupying eighth and ninth in the newest rundown.

Four of the first 10 saw action last night and three came through with victories. St. John's lost to 17th-ranked Holy Cross, 75-70, while Iowa whipped Michigan State, 64-52, Kansas downed Missouri, 65-54, and Duquesne turned back Akron, 69-51.

Demo Carriers. Optimist East Monday Victors

Monday night at Horace Mann gym, the Democrat Newspaper Carriers won a 51 to 10 victory over the Episcopal five, in the Optimist basketball league.

Corn lead the attack for the carriers with 20 points while Lane followed with 15. Hoppis was top man for the Episcopal team with 5.

In the second game, the Optimist East scored a 26 to 11 victory over the Methodist team. Clemmons scored seven points for the East team, while Sheppard lead the Methodists with four.

Thursday night at Whittier school two games will be played to complete the league games. The first game will pit the Optimist West against the Red Birds, and in the second game the Troop 65 Tornadoes will face the Troop 65 Midgets.

Hornsby Has Done Most For His Club

BURBANK, Calif. (P)—No manager in the major leagues has done as much as Rogers Hornsby has done to improve his club for 1952.

With Hornsby making moves like a veteran chess player, the St. Louis Browns will start the season with an entirely different team than that which closed out the 1951 campaign.

Besides obtaining the best players available in the AAA and AA leagues, the Browns have completed deals with the Red Sox, White Sox, Senators and Tigers since Hornsby took charge.

"As you know, I was out on the coast last year and had no chance to watch big league baseball, but it was obvious even way out there that the Browns were in very bad shape," said Hornsby.

"Bill Veeck and I hope we have made improvements that will move us up in the standings."

"We have done the only practical thing — revamp the club and get the best players available. I honestly think in Jim Rivera and George Schmees, we have obtained two of the finest young outfielders in some up to the major leagues in some time."

"The Browns' weaknesses last year were in general: Their offense and defense were lacking and the pitching left much to be desired. Only our catching was adequately manned."

"I feel sure the Browns are going to have the best young outfield the fans have seen in a long time. We have both quantity and quality. Our outfield, in addition to Rivera, who led the Coast League in hitting in 1951, and Schmees, who was the third hitter on the coast, has such other prospects as Bob Nieman, who led the Texas League in hitting in 1951, and who was hitting .372 during the last few weeks with the Browns."

Frank Sauter, a great minor league hitter who injured his arm after Veeck signed him last summer, gives promise of making the team this season. We also have fine prospects like Roy Sievers, 1949 rookie-of-the-year; Earl Rapp, Jim Delsing, Tom Wright and Jim Dyck, most valuable player in the Texas League last year.

"We had a good second baseman last year in Bobby Young and he is back with us, backed up by a determined Mike Goliat. For shortstop, himself. Marty Marion."

"Marty expects to play considerably more than 100 games. He reports his injured knee in great shape after a winter of basketball and other activities. At third we have holdover Fred Marsh and Leo Thomas, best third baseman in the PCL last year who is back for a second trial in the majors."

"The trade with the Tigers ought to help us, especially around first base where Dick Kryhoski will batte it out with Hank Artt and others. Behind the plate we have added Clint Courtney from the Yankee organization, a much sought-after catcher who played for me at Beaumont in 1950. Courtney is a real scrapper and, with Les Moss, our receiving department should be among the best in the league."

"Heading our pitching staff, we are mighty glad to have Ned Garver, our 20-game winner. From what I hear, Tommy Byrne can throw real hard and will be a mighty valuable starter if we can help him find the plate. To back up Garver and Byrne, we have Bob Cain and Gene Bearden, who came to us in the trade with Detroit, Lou Sleater, Bob Mahoney, Harry (Duke) Markell, Duane Pilette, Satchell Paige and Earle Harritt."

"As for the pennant, you know me well enough that in my opinion there is only one place to end—that's on the top. Yes, even the Browns will be shooting the works to win."

LaMonte Wins First Contest In Sub-Regional

LaMonte's power-laden Vikings lived up to their number one billing in the Windsor Class B sub-regional Monday night by outclassing Deepwater, 54-27.

The PBCAA champs outscored their opponents in every period and at no time were in danger. The victors stretched an 11-point half-time margin to 17 at the three-quarter mark and added ten more to their advantage in the last period. The LaMonte defense rose to great heights in the third quarter, when Deepwater could register but two points.

Jack Barnes and the reliable Bill Jackson paced the patched-up Vikings with 14 points each. Regulars Jerry Sparks and Buster Rice did not play for LaMonte, as both are recovering from bouts with the "flu bug."

The Vikings will play the Windsor Greyhounds Wednesday night in the tournament's second round. Sparks and Rice should be ready for duty at that time.

Griesedieck Bros. beer bowlers took three hard fought games from the Miller High Life aggregation in the Monday 6:45 bowling league. Bud Collins was high man for the winners while Kenneth Tucker topped the scoring for the losers.

Bob Scott led the Grapette "ten pinners" to two victories over Town and Country. Andson was high score man for the losing team.

Rev. Walter F. Strickert and "Red" Heuerman carried the St. Paul Lutheran team to two victories over Stewart Ave. Market. Red Wittman and Bob Kahrs topped the other bowlers on their team for high score on the Market team.

The 8:45 League
Over in the 8:45 league the last place Connor-Wagoner team slapped down the first place Anderson's Sheet Metal team in three straight games. Cherry Wilson bowled a 512 series for the winners while Red Wittman had a 542 series for the losers.

Although the Dugan Paint team had the highest game and the highest series for the whole league they dropped two very close games to the fighting Jaycees.

Watkins Plumbing and Heating trounced on the Finland Glass Works 3 straight games. Steady bowling on the part of every member of the W. P. and H. aggregation helped move their team into second place. Pabst rolled 538 for high score on the losing team.

Gremlins Eliminated Monday In Prairie Home Sub-regional

The Sacred Heart Gremlins were eliminated in the first round of the third period and the final score was 54-61.

The game was well played and the Gremlins put up a splendid fight, but they were unable to cope with the sharp shooting boys from Montevideo county.

Jim Labus played a good game and was the backbone of the Gremlin attack, scoring 20 points. Bill Hodges was next with 16. Bill Love proved the big gun for California with 28 points.

This game marked the end of the basketball season for the Gremlins. Their record for the season is 21 wins and 6 lost.

Thirty-five MBH Hunters Enjoy Big 'Bunny Hunt'

The "Bunny Hunt" staged by the Missouri Bow Hunters in Pettis county the past week-end was successful in spite of the weather. Thirty-five followers of the bow and arrow sport reported in and participated in the two days of killing rabbits Indian fashion.

Saturday about twenty hunters were in the field, north of Hughesville, and that night the banquet held at Dan's Restaurant had twenty-five sportsmen present.

Sunday others who enjoy the sport arrived bringing the total hunters to 35 and the day was spent hunting in the Camp Branch neighborhood. For the two days of hunting 36 rabbits were killed with arrows.

Clarence Moore of the Moore Hatchery at Ionia met with the group Sunday and discussed a archery golf course on his farm. The proposal was accepted and as soon as weather conditions permit the course will be set up.

The next regular meeting at which election of officers will be held has been set for Kansas City in September at which time the Missouri State Archery tournament will be held.

Gil Turner Defeats Flanagan of St. Paul

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26—(AP)—The answer to boxing's recurrent question "how good is Gil Turner?" seems to be just as good as he has to be. Turner, unbeaten Philadelphia welterweight sensation, gave evidence of that last night as he completely outclassed Del Flanagan of St. Paul.

Some fight critics have written that Turner is easy to hit; he has a lot to learn about ring generalship; he doesn't know where half his punches are going, maybe so, but he always wins—so far. The 21-year old Philadelphia Negro has won 29 fights, 23 by knockout or TKO. The latest was last night's 10 round unanimous decision over Flanagan.

Atlantic Army Waits to 1955 For Germans

BONN, Germany (P)—Allied officials said today that the Atlantic army will have to wait at least until 1955 for the 12 German divisions it counts on to help defend the West.

Despite the green light given the European army by the Atlantic Allies at their Lisbon conference, these officials said that recent political developments, especially in France, have set back the previous plans calling for combat-ready German troops by 1954.

The sources here explain the situation like this:

The Germans will need two full years from the starting point to call up, arm and train 300,000 to 400,000 men to serve with the six-nation European army.

The outlook now is that not a single German soldier will be drafted before early 1953 and perhaps months later.

The Germans plan to start their new army with small units of volunteers who later will take over the training of draftees.

Nor do these prospects for German manpower for Western defense take into account a possible change in the West German government. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's pro-rearmament coalition faces an election battle in the summer of 1953 with the bitterly anti-rearmament Socialists.

The Socialists warned last week end that they would continue to oppose German participation in the Western defense system "under present conditions," even if they take over the government next year.

They have demanded immediate elections.

Although the Germans are free to make preparations now for recruiting troops, they cannot put men into uniform until:

1. The six West European nations—France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—complete the draft treaty for the European army.

2. The six Parliaments ratify the treaty.

3. The German Parliament approves a separate conscription bill.

With the European army scheme facing stiff battles in the French and German Parliaments and perhaps in Belgium, Allied officials believe the ratification process will consume months.

Some German leaders feel that the fight over conscription in Bonn will roll on for months too—perhaps into 1953.

Ex-Gov. Jim Folsom Cleared of Charges

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., (P)—Former Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama has been cleared of a charge of driving while intoxicated.

The 6-foot-3 insurance man wept when Judge G. O. Boner acquitted him yesterday after a non-jury trial in County Court. His pretty brunette wife broke into a wide smile.

Folsom was arrested Feb. 8 by State Highway Patrolman L. E. Neumann, who testified that the ex-governor's car was weaving from one side of the road to the other, and that he admitted drinking whiskey and beer.

Folsom didn't testify, but defense witnesses said he did not appear intoxicated shortly before and after his arrest.

Mrs. Elliott Cleared In Fur Theft Case

LOS ANGELES (P)—Mrs. Yolanda R. Elliott, red-haired Hollywood fashion designer, burst into tears after being acquitted on a charge of stealing a $2,250 stone marten stole from actresses Anne Sterling's apartment.

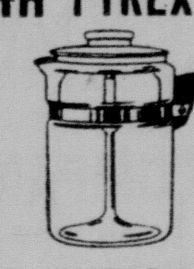

But she was quickly cheered by actress Jane Russell, who rushed up after the jury's verdict was read yesterday and embraced Mrs. Elliott.

"We won," said Mrs. Elliott. "We did," the actress exclaimed. Miss Russell, who testified earlier as a character witness for her friend, said she had come to court to "clear the record."

Mrs. Elliott testified during the trial she paid for the fur piece.

RAF'S "MYSTERY PLANE" IS CALLED TOP JET—This is the first in-flight view of the delta-winged Gloster GA-5, Britain's all-weather, long-range jet fighter. Powered by two Sapphire jet engines—each of which has a "thrust" equal to the four engines on conventional, heavy bomber—the Gloster jet is claimed to be the fastest and most formidable plane in existence. Details of its armament and radar gear remain secret.

NAVY'S "COUGAR"—Slashing through the sky over Bethesda, N. Y., is the Grumman F9F-6 "Cougar," latest addition to the fast company of Navy fighters. The swept-wing Cougar, rated at "over 600 mph" is the successor to the battle-proved Grumman Panther, first jet used in combat by the Navy. Its low landing and takeoff speed make it ideal for aircraft carrier operation.

Salt Track for Flap Jack Flappers Who Do Flipping

LIBERAL, Kan., (P)—Sponsors of the big pancake race here scouted around today for salt—not for the flapjacks but for the track.

A wintry blast left the 415-yard S-shaped course coated with two inches of snow and ice to the dismay of the women of Liberal who are hoping for their first international victory in tomorrow's Shrove Tuesday race against the housewives of Olney, England.

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event here, planned to sprinkle snow melting rock salt over the course.

A cablegram was sent to Olney telling about the ice and snow and asking if it would be all right for the girls to run in hob-nailed boots.

Russia Invited to Tell Own Story of Massacres

WASHINGTON (P)—Soviet Russia has been invited to give Congress its views on the 1939 Katyn Forest massacre, in which 11,000 Polish officers were slain.

Previous witnesses have blamed the Russians. The Soviets have publicly accused Germany's Nazis.

Rep. Madden (D-Ind.) said the State Department delivered the invitation to the Soviet Embassy yesterday afternoon, with a request for a reply by May 1.

100 Mission Veteran Goes Back For More

WITH U.S. FIFTH AIR FORCE, Korea, Feb. 26.—Lt. Horace J. Mitchell, Jr., of St. Paul, Minn., is back for more.

The 29-year-old Korean war veteran flew 100 combat missions in F-80 Shooting Stars—the normal tour of duty—between January and June, 1951. Then he was assigned to Okinawa and reassigned to the United States in October, 1951.

Now Mitchell is back flying daily missions as an F-86 Sabre jet pilot.

"I wanted to fly some air-to-air combat," the stocky Minnesotan explained. "When I was here before, the MIGs were beginning to bother our F-80s during strafing and bombing runs—until the Sabres started giving us top cover. "I wanted an opportunity to fly top cover for the fighter-bombers. I know from experience how much they appreciate it."

Expected Triplets, Got Them, Still Surprised

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26.—(P)—Mrs. Kay Hill was expecting triplets—X-rays a month ago so indicated—but when the three baby girls were born Sunday she realized that "it still leaves you sort of breathless."

The hospital nurses call them "A," "B" and "C" but Mrs. Hill, 30, of Fullerton, Calif., and her husband, Gerald, 30, a telephone company lineman, decided on Colleen, Carla and Candice.

The Hills have two other children, Gerald, Jr., 9, and Randolph, 4. And they have a problem serious at the moment—no washing machine.

Easter Island is so named because a Dutch explorer discovered it on Easter Sunday.

Political Round-Up---

Russell Backers Fan Southern Opposition to Pres. Truman

By The Associated Press
Smouldering Dixie opposition to President Truman was being fanned today by admirers of Georgia's Sen. Richard B. Russell.

Russell's home-state supporters may propel him into the middle of the Democratic presidential race this week.

Russell wouldn't comment on a request by the Georgia Democratic Executive committee that he become an active candidate. But his friends said they doubt that Russell could refuse.

The Georgian headed the 1948 Democratic convention rebellion against Truman but did not join the State Rights movement, which took 39 electoral votes from the president in the election.

See Other States In Line
Jack Bell, Associated Press political reporter, said today the Georgia move would likely spur southern opponents of the president into an effort to swing other states behind Russell.

In Florida the Russell movement got a shot in the arm yesterday when nine Floridians instructed to support him qualified as candidates for state delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

In Mississippi, the House of Representatives paved the way for another possible break with the national party. It voted without dissent for all political parties to nominate anyone they wish as the state organization's choice for president and vice president.

Kefauver Into Missouri
Meanwhile, Kefauver continued his busy campaigning, going into the president's home state of Missouri. In St. Louis he said without naming names yesterday that "the head of a government... has a clear responsibility... to clean up any corrupt or dishonest act as quickly as it springs up."

Another Democratic presidential hopeful, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, won unanimous endorsement of his state's Democratic Central committee. Kerr has said he will be a candidate only if Truman does not run.

GOP Set For Primaries
Republicans were busy getting their candidates squared away for approaching presidential preference primaries.

Sen. Carlson of Kansas said national leaders of the Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower movement would not support a slate of delegates for the general in Minnesota's March 18 primary. He would be running against former Gov. Harold E. Stassen in Stassen's home state. The Pennsylvania Election Board acted on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's request to take his name off the April 22 primary ballot there. That would leave Eisenhower and Stassen in the race.

"BIRDMAN" OF THE FUTURE—Marine Sgt. Daniel Murphy of Pittsburgh, Pa., shows the Navy's "hoppi-copter," a one-man helicopter which it is hoped will some day enable a fully-armed man to get about the battlefield more quickly. Engine and gas tank are strapped onto the Marine's back; his legs are the landing and takeoff "gear." Performance details of the flying machine are secret, but Navy spokesmen said this model did lift a man and hover over a field as early as 1947.
